Leading through change: fair process

Building Trust and Engagement with Your Team

Before your next decision or change, check all three:

☐

Engagement

Did I ask the people it affects, before it's final?

Try: "Before I decide, I'd like your input on..."

☐

Explanation

Did I share the why, including what happened with their input?

Try: "Here's why..."

☐

Expectation clarity

Did I say what changes, and by when?

Try: "Starting [date], here's what changes..."

Keep in mind

- Decision came from above? Ask how to carry it out.
- Can't share the reason? Say so; don't invent one.
- Fair process isn't consensus. You still make the call.
- Not a supervisor? Use these for any change you're part of.

Based on the fair process framework (Kim & Mauborgne, Harvard Business Review, 1997).

During the session: Practice

When your facilitator asks, write one sentence that adds the missing piece.

During the session: Your template

Fill in "Coming up" today. Finish the rest before your next team meeting.

Coming up:

I'll ask the team:

I'll explain why:

What changes, and by when: